

This is a sample document for testing a Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG) system.

It contains basic information about climate change, carbon emissions, and renewable energy.

Key points:

- Climate change is driven by greenhouse gases, especially CO₂.
- Renewable energy sources include solar, wind, and hydroelectric power.
- Reducing emissions is essential for global sustainability.

This document is intended to test whether the AI can accurately retrieve and answer questions based on the content above.